Information Solutions Team Somerset CPAs

The right business information system can help you work smarter, communicate more efficiently and compete more successfully.

Before recommending any business information or financial management system, Somerset consultants get to know your business inside and out and obtain input from all those who will use the technology. Our depth of business and accounting knowledge combined with our hardware and software expertise allow us to give clients the solutions they need. We are objective in making recommendations that best suit your unique needs. We are passionate about your success.

Our consultants provide troubleshooting as well as complete implementation. No matter the industry or the type of solution you need, we have our finger on the pulse of technology and know what is available to best fit clients' requirements. In addition, we provide hands-on training at your location or at our Somerset Training Academy so that your business can get the most out of the systems you choose.

Find out how Somerset CPAs can help you use technology most effectively in your business. Contact us today at 317-472-2200, 800-469-7206 or info@somersetcpas.com.

Kathy Hardey, Clawson Communications, Inc.

“After being on the same accounting software program for almost 10 years, our staff was not looking forward to converting to a new program. However, Somerset made the transition painless for everyone! They were very easy to work with and have a knowledge base that enabled them to answer all of our questions. We have now had our software for almost two years and I’m very glad we used Somerset to make this change.”
